

Dear WYCCP,

When I first met you guys I thought you was going to preach the gospel and turn me into a born again Christian. Or you was going to teach me all about drugs, which would have bored me to tears because I've been into drugs longer than most of you guys have been alive. But to my surprise, you didn't do anything like that at all, you had my wellbeing in mind all along. No God stuff, no drug stuff, just me stuff.

I am so grateful and happy right now because we've reached every goal and more. I've realised now that my time with you guys is nearly over but I hope we can keep in touch, there are other guys in that jail that need your help urgently. I can honestly say that I am a complete success thanks to you guys and I am happier than I've ever been. I am eternally grateful for all the help and advice, you have turned me into a better man. I've learned to respect myself and all the things that I've achieved thanks to you. My family feels exactly the same, you all are absolute diamonds and I love you all.

Please keep up the good work that you do because karma will always be on your side. Thanks a million from all the family.
